Record-Breaking Rain Storm Hits In Ocean Beach

Ocean Beach business district was hit hard in the downpour early in the week, particularly the heavy rain that fell during the day Tuesday. Main streets of the business district were under water as much as a foot deep in places.

At least two of the business places, Mc's Barber shop and the Shoe Hospital, had to shut up shop in the afternon because of the flood covering their floors. Schneider's Drug Store also had to fight the flood in the rear of the store and the Blue Chip Liquor store staff had to mount their counters in order to keep their feet dry.

Speaking of the feet, likely hundreds of local residents had wet feet before the day was over.

As result of the storm many of the streets have large sections of the pavement covered with sand and soil washed down from the higher sections of Ocean Beach.

Winds of record-breaking velocity on Saturday night and Sunday resulted in surf action that cut the ocean banks near Sunset Cliffs blvd. to the extent that five blocks of the street were shut off to traffic by the police for several days, the barricaded section being between Adair and Froude streets. At two places, the water action, as result of the storm, had cut into the bank up to the edge of the pavement.

A total of almost five inches of rain fell here during the rainy spell, breaking all records for November

Kiwanis Elects Seven Directors For Coming Year

Election of seven directors, who are to serve the club the coming year, featured the meeting Tuesday evening of the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club. Those elected were Capt. Burritt S. Mills, Dr. W. B. Oster, Harry Masters, Earl Shaw, Rollin E. Reed, Milton Lancaster and Frank B. McElwee. In addition to these seven the newly elected officers of the club will serve as directors ex-officio.

Fred A. Amick of Ocean Beach, a former director of the Safety Service department of the San Diego county Red Cross chapter, presented the Red Cross activity of swimming instruction, largely through the medium of a sound movie entitled, "Swim and Live,"

He prefaced the movie with an outline of the three departments of the Red Cross Safety Service, being first aid, accident prevention and the water safety program. Because of the alarming number of accidents in the home, the Red Cross has introduced a new course for the prevention of such accidents, he said. "There were more casualties every 11 days in the homes in this country in 1943 than the American army suffered in the first 11 days of the now famous Normandy invasion in Europe," he indicated.

I. J. Claspill, as program chairman for the evening, presented the speaker.

Service-man guest for the evening was G. G. Bradshaw, U. S. Navy, recently returned from the Aleutian Islands, a guest of Lloyd Greeson. Other guests were Roy Claphan of Lansing, Mich., a guest of Harry Masters and Wilber Larson, a guest of Martin Murphy.

A talk by Dr. Alfred Sand is scheduled for next week's meeting with Lee R. Woodley as program chairman.

Collections for Honor Roll Plaque Reach $730 Total

Collections for Ocean Beach's war service honor roll have reach $730, Chairman Lloyd Greeson of the club's public affairs committee reported to the Kiwanis directors Tuesday evening. Around $200 more is needed before the plaque can be ordered, he said. Cost of the plaque and installation is now estimated at $1600.

Placing of the plaque on the Ocean Beach library grounds was approved by the directors, Club Secretary Burritt S. Mills reports.

The directors also passed a motion commending Mrs. C. W. Early, president, and the Woman's club for their work on the recent War Chest drive.

Pointers Down Saints 15 to 6 In Friday Game

The "Pointers" got back their winning stride Friday at the expense of the St. Augustine high school eleven, taking a hard-fought game on Ross field by a score of 15 to 6.

Bill Foran scored the first touchdown on a long forward pass from Tommy Wilson in the first quarter of the game and Tom Jones accounted for the second "Pointers" touchdown in the fourth period. The other two points of the winners were counted in the second period when the "Pointers" blocked a Saints punt and fell on it back of the Saints goal line for a safety.

Sanchez, who was about the whole show for the Saints, scored their touchdown in the final period of the game. Both teams threatened to score near the end of the game, which proved to be the most exciting part of the grid battle.

In the other games played Friday in the Victory league San Diego high trounced Grossmont 34 to 0, Sweetwater edged out Hoover 13 to 7 and La Jolla and Coronado played a nip and tuck game, ending in a 19-19 tie. As result, the "Hillers" are safely entrenched at the top of the league standings.

Final Game Here Friday

Final game of the season for Coach Maxwell's lads of Pt. Loma high will be played this (Friday) afternoon with Sweetwater on Ross field, the opening whistle to sound at 2:30 o'clock. A tough battle is in prospect, with the dope favoring the Pointers to close their season with another victory.

SIXTH WAR LOAN

California's quota in the Sixth War Loan drive which opens next Monday, Nov. 20, is $836 million. The national goal is $14 billion. Individuals are asked to account for $5 billion of it. San Diego county's quota is $40,125,000.

The U. S. Treasury is aiming a bit lower than in the Fifth War Loan—then it was $16 billion—but the present goal is still a high one and will call for the wholehearted support of all Americans if it is to be achieved.

In view of the fanatical resistance of both the Germans and the Japs, we hardly need be reminded that our dollars are very necessary to give our land and sea forces the supplies they will need to carry on the job. A few months ago when Allied troops were sweeping across France, we may have been tempted to think that the war in Europe was just a matter of weeks. Now the indications point to a good many hard months before the Nazis are brought to their knees.

The Sixth War Loan is not just the "other fellow's" job. It's ours. Ocean Beach and San Diego's quota, California's quota, the national goal, and the individual share—all these can be attained only as we civilians "shoulder arms" in this campaign.

As in the past, the full strength of America's sales forces will be brought into action. The retailers in California and throughout the rest of the nation are mobilizing their "Third Army" of 5,000,000 employees with the aim of having each one sell at least $300 worth of War bonds during the drive. A Federal Reserve survey showed that the "Third Army" substantially increased "E" bond sales in the Fifth War Loan campaign.

It has been said many times that you only lend your money while many service-men give their lives. But however often that statement is made, it does not become any less true.

So, be sure you do your part in this drive. Invest an extra $100—or more. And keep all the War bonds you buy. It's the least you can do.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

In spite of the Democratic tide which swept over California as well as over most of the other states, Republicans will retain control of the state legislature, which meets for its biennial session in January.

Indications are, however, that the Democrats will be quite articulate in Sacramento. Not that they were ever really otherwise. But the 1945 meeting of the legislature will be the last regular session before the next gubernatorial election in 1946. So it appears that the Democrats are out to make political hay while the legislative sun shines.

Already they have laid plans for the formation of any economy bloc to crack the whip over Governor Warren's budget recommendations. But the Republicans are countering with their own economy bloc which they used so effectively during the Olson regime.

HITLER HAD PLANS

Although no official admission has even come forth, there have been rumors that Hitler actually attempted to invade the British Isles following the conquest of France.

Whether or not these rumors ever prove true, the fact was established recently beyond question that Hitler had detailed plans for the conquest of England. When the Allied troops captured Brussels, they found a big garage in which were hundreds of thousands of dossiers, each 18 inches thick and about a foot square, containing complete data relating to every district in the United Kingdom and Eire.

In addition to detailed maps, there was information indicating that the German plan of attack called for two main landings in the south of England with airborne landings in the Midlands and behind the east coast. One of the main thrusts would approach London from the south and engage the available British land forces. The other would hit the beaches farther west and drive northward in a movement that would enable the invaders to also attack London from the northwest.

A striking thing about these documents is that the first of them was not ready until August 1940, and they were kept up to date until 1943.

WAR CHEST DRIVE GOES "OVER THE TOP" BY A MARGIN OF 12 PERCENT

San Diego's 1944 War Chest drive has ended with a record-breaking total collection of $1,098,640.02, according to announcement by John T. Martin, chest president and chairman of the county division. The total represents 112.2 percent of the $979,021 quota.

County communities contributed $142,837.31 of the grand total for a 105 percent of quota, the chairman stated.

"This drive was waged under most adverse conditions," said Martin, "Including a national election, lowered employment and being sandwiched in between two bond drives. In spite of these obstacles, the drive has gone way over the top and beyond our greatest expectations. In the name of our own at home, of those fighting men abroad, and of those unfortunate people in our Allied nations, I wish to thank everyone who aided in the campaign."

3,000 Southland Students Learn To Drive Safely

More than 3,000 high school students enrolled in Southland schools are now learning the principles of safe driving, according to a report just compiled by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, which has completed a survey of the current driver education program.

During the fall months, club representatives have visited virtually every Southern California high school to discuss the possibilities of adding a driving course to the curriculum. Interest has been high, it was reported, and most schools have either started a program or expect to add driver education to their courses of study when time become available.

A limited number of schools are giving actual behind-the-wheel instruction to supplement classroom work, but in most schools war restrictions and the teacher shortage make this phase impossible at this time. About 15,000 text books on the subject have been distributed by the automobile club for use in classrooms.

Immediate objective of the program, it was pointed out, is to help prepare maturely youthful drivers to meet the present hazards, and to teach young future operators the fundamentals of safe driving.

Among the sponsors of the program are the Automobile Club of Southern California, the California State Automobile association, the State Department of Motor Vehicles and the State Department of Education.

Last Monday I visited the USO work room in the Medical-Dental building, 1252 Third ave. Up to that time I thought I had seen everything but have decided I haven't seen anything. What they make out of the tin can discs, the burned out light bulbs, the empty spools and old Christmas cards and wrapping paper is hardly believable. If I had not seen the beautiful angles, Santa Clauses place cards, trees, bells etc. I would not have believed it possible. Upstairs I saw large boxes filled with gifts and decorations to go aboard ships. Most of the tree decorations made there are unbreakable and therefore suitable for our boats. Take time and visit this work-room and help if possible.

Each Thursday Mrs. Noonan takes in to USO what articles we have collected here and she works with them. If you have old globes, empty spools, used cards and Christmas paper, no matter how little, bring it to the Center and we will send it in by Mrs. Noonan.

Red Cross needs more Christmas cards. While hundreds have been given we have so many more service-men in our hospitals than we did last year that more of everything is needed. More tree decorations, books and games are needed badly.

Please go to the Blood Donor center at 446 W. Beech st. or call F-7701 and make an appointment to give your blood to save the life of one of our boys Don't fail them. Need for the plasma is extremely urgent.

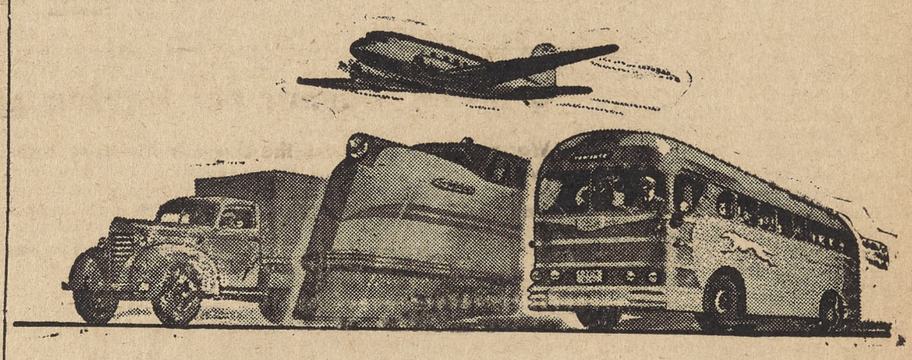
CALIFORNIA
without Transportation?



WITHOUT TRANSPORTATION, this state could not hold its present important place in the national economy. With its great wealth of agriculture, industry, business and commerce, transportation . . . by highway, skyway and railway . . . is essential to link communities with each other and with the rest of the nation.

Highways serve the smallest town and the largest metropolis, carrying the lifeblood of American progress. Greyhound, serving America over a nation-wide network of highways, reaches more than 45,000 cities and towns throughout the country not served by other forms of public transportation.

Today, Greyhound service is vital to America's war job. The armed forces depend on buses to transport military personnel, on duty and leave. War plants depend on buses to carry employees to and from work. But Greyhound is not forgetting its responsibility to the traveling public. Today, more and more people of this busy state depend on Greyhound for transportation.

Fortunately any inconvenience in today's transportation is only temporary. Carefree travel will come again when victory is won. New post-war Greyhound buses have already been designed, and models are being built now for testing and refinement. Quantity production will begin as soon as manufacturing facilities are released. After the war you'll ride by Greyhound on America's scenic highways with greater pleasure and more comfort than ever before.

Look ahead with Greyhound to a new era of enjoyable highway travel.

A Prayer

Across the world the sound of shells has ceased . . .
And quiet shrouds the battle-rubbled West . . .
The enemy has laid away his arms, and Death and Pain are done in France.
But I go on . . . for I must fight and kill . . .
And work and sweat . . . and hide and run . . .
For here the enemy is very much alive . . .
His bullets still are made of lead . . .
Their angry whispers still foretell of sudden death
For me and others crouched in slime and mud . . .
The end for us is yet to come . . .
And so we pray to God to give us strength
To fight and win . . . without the waste of Time . . .
And with His Will . . . to see our homes again.

GOD IS MY CO-PILOT

By COL. ROBERT L. SCOTT

WNU Features.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I: Scott's early experiences with gliders and airplanes. He goes to Ft. McPherson and enlists in the regular army as a private.

CHAPTER II: Scott wins the West Point competitive exam and gets a furlough before reporting. He is graduated as a second lieutenant of infantry and goes to Europe, which he tours on a motorcycle. He sells his motorcycle and arrives at Randolph Field, Texas.

With my teeth clenched and probably with my eyes closed, I pushed that PT-3 into a vertical dive at point-blank altitude. Just as the cotton fields down below seemed about to come right into my lap I felt Ted Landon grab the controls and saw him hastily point to his head with the sign that he was "taking over." We came out just over the mesquite trees, and he roughly slipped the ship into a bumpy landing in a cotton field. Then, while I was trying to add things up and realizing already that I had tied it up again, I saw Ted very methodically raise his goggles and with great deliberation climb out of the front cockpit. He glared at me but said sweetly enough:

"Scott, what in the g— d— hell are you trying to do—what was that maneuver? I said glide—G-L-I-D-E. Don't you at least know what a normal glide is in all this time?

Weakly I said, "Sir, I thought you said a dive." I could see Ted fight for control; then he told me the next time I had him at an altitude so low, not to attempt to think but just try to keep the ship straight and level.

On another day, after about two weeks of instruction, we had been making only take-offs and landings, and I knew the time was approaching when I would solo. As usual, that realization made me more and more tense as the end of the period neared. On the take-offs I'd tense up and forget all about holding the nose straight, and on the landings I'd jerk back on the stick instead of easing it slowly back into the approach to landing stall. All I could do was day-dream about: Here we are, Scott, just about to take over and prove to the world that we can do all of this by ourselves.

Around the field in traffic I couldn't hold the correct altitude, and my instructor was cussing a blue streak. He'd yell about my having graduated from West Point and say that he knew I was supposed to have some brains but he hadn't been able to find them. After each bumpy landing he'd look around at me and hold his nose—that was symbolic enough for me. I finally bounced into another landing that nearly jarred his teeth out. Then, as usual, he showed what a prince of a fellow he was, and showed me that an instructor had to become accustomed to students' making mistakes—knowledge which stood me in good stead years later when I became an instructor.

Lieutenant Landon got out of the front seat, taking his parachute with him, and I knew the moment of moments had come. As he leaned over my cockpit and reached inside the ship for the Form One, the time-book always carried in Army ships, I saw only his hand and thought he was offering to shake hands with me. So I grabbed the hand and shook it. He just grinned and growled:

"With landings like those I can do you very little good, and I'll be damned if I'm going to let you kill me. Do you think you can take this thing around the field all by yourself and get it back down?"

"Yes, Sir," I yelled.

"Then take it around and make a landing as close to me as you can."

I had never felt so good. Taxying out I could see the world only in a rosy light. My head was really whirling. Pointing the ship into the wind, I over-controlled into a normal student takeoff and was in the air. Honestly, the living of this life was wonderful—here I was an actual Army Pilot with my own ship, and up here free from the shackles of the earth. I envied no one. Circling in traffic I'd "get my head in the clouds" and gain or lose altitude but that didn't matter. I was soloing.

Then, at the fourth leg of my traffic pattern, I began my glide in towards Lieutenant Landon. By the gods he had said, "Land as close to me as you can," and I was surely going to make that ship stop right by him—I wouldn't have my instructor being ashamed of his student. Even before I got to the moment to level off, I could see that I would land right on top of him. But the Lieutenant was running, throwing his parachute away just to get clear of a student who had really taken him literally.

Anyway, I missed him and plunked the ship into the ground after levelling off too high. Well, I held it straight and there was no ground - loop. As it stopped I breathed again, and I could feel the smile that cracked my face. A pilot! I had landed the ship and it was actually in one piece!

Looking back over my shoulder I saw Lieutenant Landon. He was just standing there about half a mile away. Then I made another mistake. He raised his hands and I thought he waved me in—I didn't know until the next day that he had been shaking his fist at me for trying to land right on him.

So I taxied in, never giving a thought to how my instructor was going to get in with his chute—you see, Randolph is a big field and I had left him more than a mile from our hangar. I had parked the plane and was in and beginning to dress when I began to realize what I had done. Looking out the window I could see him trudging across the hot soil of Texas, in the sun, with ships landing all around him. My Lord, I had tied it up again! I tried to get my feet back into my flying-suit, tripped and fell, got up and ran out of the hangar door. I guess I was going to take the ship and taxy out and pick him up. But I had lost again—the ship was being taken from the line by the next student. I just stood there with sinking heart as he came up. But he didn't even look my way, except to say, "It's kinda hot out there." Then he just glared and threw his chute in his locker.

Well, I nearly worried myself to death that night. I knew he'd more than likely tell me after the next day's ride that I was the damnedest student he'd ever seen, and that I didn't have a prayer of making a pilot. But next day he didn't say a word. All day I started to go over and tell him how sorry I was, but I guess I didn't have the nerve.

My time came to ride with him. We went out over the rolling hills of Texas, went through our chandelles and Lazy 8's—spins and stalls—shot a few landings. Then, as we put the ship down on Randolph Field, he taxied to the exact spot I had left him the day before. Looking back at me he said sweetly:

"Scott, you were kinda inaccurate in your landings yesterday. You get out and watch me. I'll show you what I wanted."

We will soon have completed three years of war work and our work still must go on. At present we are busy with the Christmas boxes for the men in the hospitals here in San Diego area. Also we are getting new Christmas cards together to give to the men confined in the hospitals for their use in sending them to their relatives and friends.

Turned in this past week were 50 Christmas cards from Sector H and from Mrs. P. Contreras of Sector K we received 20 phonograph records, some of them old though still popular. These records will be given to the USO for use at one of the various centers. Anyone having records in useable condition, please turn them in as the USO would appreciate receiving them.

The Sixth War Loan drive starts Nov. 20 and it will need the support of everybody. Do all that you possibly can during this drive.

Have you ever spent an anxious few moments before the doctor arrived, at an absolute loss to know what to do or not to do for your youngster or some dear friend who was suddenly taken ill? If so, the Red Cross has just the thing for you. It is the Home Nursing Course. Anyone who hasn't as yet taken this course (it's free you know) call Franklin 8871, Extension 20 for full information.

Thanksgiving

TODAY, as never before, men's hearts are hungry. Men of all races are reaching out and fighting for something deeper than the world's concept of peace. In short, it is peace of heart that must be won. Is not peace of heart and mind the quest and the goal of every pilgrim on earth? The deeper meaning, the higher purpose, the holier message of Thanksgiving reveal the way to this true peace. They are reminders of God's continuous gifts of Life, Truth, and Love.

To those with spiritual vision, Thanksgiving Day, first set aside by the Pilgrim Fathers as a harvest festival of gratitude to God, represents a spiritual covenant between God and man. It was the recognition of God's care which lifted the thought of that little group at Plymouth in America in 1621 above the material evidence of supply to the true thanksgiving, which fills the heart with peace, joy, and love. What a blessing we enjoy whenever the false sense of human responsibility, fear, and anxiety is dispelled through the realization that it is God who giveth the increase now, as He did in ages past!

David of old was gratefully confident that his needs would always be supplied when he said, "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies" (Psalms 23:5). Mindful of the pitfalls, dangers, and needs common to men, he could yet affirm, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." . . .

The gratitude that lifts burdens from the heart and brings peace, comes as earth's pilgrims learn that the real relationship which exists between God and man, as depicted by David and glorified centuries later by Christ Jesus, is provable now and here. Men need only cease being prodigals and understand how to leave behind everything that stamps them as unworthy, helpless creatures, and to return to their true status as sons of the Father, abounding in good.

Mary Baker Eddy, in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 249), sounds this bugle call: "Let us rejoice that we are subject to the divine 'powers that be.' Such is the true Science of being." This way of rejoicing awakens the prodigal thought from its wandering dream, effaces earth's images of inability, incapacity, lost opportunities, and reveals the kingdom of God within. Proportionately as we understand man's spiritual heritage and divine destiny, freedom comes, earth-born limitations are transcended, triumphs over the enemies to health, happiness, and success are attained, and the fact of God's ever-presence is a living reality. Is not man's unity with God a cause for rejoicing every day?

So many times in human experience one's lack of gratitude and of insight produces a wilderness experience. It is heaviness of heart that silences the song one's heart should sing in the night of doubt. . . .

Christ Jesus maintained this attitude of gratitude hour by hour and day by day. Constantly he shared with those around him his feast of thanksgiving! His entire ministry was a radiant example of thanksgiving to God, of rejoicing that man is subject to God, and of grateful acknowledgment that as the Son of God he could say, "I and my Father are one" (John 10:30). He richly dispensed the bread of Truth. Heart-hunger and physical hunger were satisfied! His abundant proof of God's presence, power, and love, healing the sick, comforting the sorrowing, reclaiming the sinner, is something we need to approximate more often today.

One of the greatest enemies of mankind is the belief in lack. Can lack have dominion when Biblical authority states (Psalms 24:1), "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof"? Can we, need we, want any good thing if we truly accept the truth that the Lord is our shepherd? This truth leads those who understand and live it to the green pastures of God's abundant presence and beside the still waters of realized divine protection. — The Christian Science Monitor.

Peter Arno's "Man in the Shower" has just been published recently and sells for $2.50. It contains 115 cartoon by Peter Arno. Most of them are reprinted through the courtesy of the New Yorker Magazine. Many of the others have never before appeared in print. This is the first Peter Arno collection since 1941, and to say more would be superflous.

The rustle of taffeta is in the air. This sprightly rayon taffeta that is making such a splurge in the fabric realm is as fashionable in plaids and stripes as can be, and it is just as smart in plain colors. The bustle evening gown pictured is of taffeta in a lovely cerise shade. The evening formals made up with the huge bustle bows with corresponding bows at the shoulder give a new silhouette which is growing in favor right along. It's part of the revival of Victorian modes.

SALT
PATTERN FOR CUTTING BOARD AND STENCILING WITH CRAYON OR PAINT

HERE is a pair of gifts that will bring joy to any homemaker. The salt box has the graceful proportions of those used in Colonial kitchens, and the rack with cup hooks screwed in place for hot pan holders is designed to harmonize with the box.

Both box and rack are easy to cut out of plywood or scraps of thin lumber—either by hand with a coping saw or with a jig saw. The quaint stencil design may be applied right on the wood with wax crayon and then shellacked to fix the color.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared an actual-size pattern for all the pieces of this salt box and the kitchen rack with step-by-step directions for making. A pattern and color guide with complete directions for the stencil design is also included. The pattern may be used over and over for decorating canisters, place mats and other attractive gifts. Clipping Helpful

An occasional clipping of grass in the chicken yard is helpful because chicks can consume only the short green shoots.

Tropical Plant

New Zealand spinach is not a spinach, but a tropical plant which botanists call tetragonia expansa. It should not be sown until the ground is fairly warm, and then it should be given plenty of room, 2 to 3 feet between plants. In the northern states it grows to remarkable size, so that a peck of greens can be picked from a single plant once a week until frosts come.

Trees Back Up Fighter

It requires five trees annually to equip and maintain each man in Canada's armed forces, a Canadian lumber journal reports. Quarters, mess hall, chapel and recreational facilities take one tree. Another is needed to create food, clothing, tanks, guns and ammunition. The remaining three are used in the production of explosives, planes and gun stocks and in shipyards and factories.

Glass bricks will be widely used in postwar bathrooms for the recessing of fixtures, thus helping to departmentize the bathroom and provide greater privacy, convenience and beauty, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau.

Gets No Air

Clay holds plenty of water and minerals but no air. This month, as soon as clay soils become moderately dry after the spring rains, they should be broken up to a depth of eight or ten inches so that air can get into them. Plants must breathe just as humans and animals but, because they have no lungs, every cell has to breathe. Thus the roots as well as the tops must get air.

their everyday use of electrical service.

But that isn't all we found out from San Diego housewives. We learned that over 70 percent knew what caused a fuse to "blow". They said it was an overloaded circuit probably caused by one or more "octopus" outlets — AND THEY WERE RIGHT!

That's why they ALL say, "Next time we'll plan for PLENTY of convenience outlets."

"I want something really nice for a present," explained the shopper to the assistant.

"For your husband, madam?" asked the man behind the counter.

"No, from my husband," came the reply, sweetly.

Wild Aim

"I see you have a sign in your shop, 'We aim to please,'" remarked the customer.

"Certainly," replied the shopkeeper, "that's our motto."

"Well," said the customer, "you ought to take a litle time off for target practice."

WHY QUINTUPLETS use this great rub for SORE THROAT COUGHS due to COLDS

Wonderful for Grown-Ups, Too!

Ever since they were tiny tots—whenever the Quintuplets catch cold—their chests, throats and backs are immediately rubbed with Musterole.

Musterole gives such blessed prompt relief because it's more than just an ordinary "salve." It's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern counter-irritant. It not only relieves coughs, sore throat, aching chest muscles due to colds, makes breathing easier—but it actually helps break up congestion in upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

And Musterole is so much easier to apply than a mustard plaster. White, Stainless. Just rub it on! "No fuss. No muss with Musterole!"

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole, Regular, and Extra Strong.

MUSTEROLE

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Many rubber items in common use are shaped at the factories in giant extruding machines, which in general appearance and action are much like the ordinary kitchen meat grinder. Rubber, mixed with chemicals, is extruded in any shape desired—round, square, rectangular or tubular.

The critical operating temperature in a tire is about 240 degrees at its hottest point, and is reached quicker in a synthetic rubber tire than in one made of natural rubber. Speed, load and inflation are chief factors in developing tire heat, which accounts for tire users being cautioned about respecting them.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

No Cooking. No Work. Real Saving.

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable, for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

And you'll say it's really amazing, for quick action. You can feel it take hold promptly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Thus it eases breathing, and lets you sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Household Hints

To prevent your bedsheets from catching and tearing, cover the corners of the bedsprings with adhesive tape.

Try drying your wool sweaters on a window screen. It allows free circulation.

If lemon juice is squeezed over bananas and apples after they are sliced, they will not become dark.

Do not place hot or warm foods in the refrigerator to cool. The warmth will raise the temperature and the food is likely to spoil, owing to the sudden change in temperature.

KIWANNIANNES TO HOLD DINNER MEETING AT CASA DE MANANA TUES., NOV. 21

The Kiwaniannes are to have their dinner meeting at the Casa de Manana hotel in La Jolla on Tuesday, Nov. 21 at 7 p.m., reports Mrs. Henry Holman, president. The members are asked to go with their husbands to the Woman's clubhouse, 2160 Bacon st. as the men go to Kiwanis meeting, and to leave from there for La Jolla. The members are asked to notify Mrs. Holmes, phone B-5344, by Monday morning whether they can or cannot attend.

FORMER OCEAN BEACH WOMAN HAS HER PICTURES ON DISPLAY AT LA JOLLA

Mrs. Anna Palmer, a former chairman of the arts and crafts department of the Ocean Beach Woman's club, announces that she has an exhibit of her landscapes and ocean pictures in the library annex gallery at La Jolla, which she invites her Ocean Beach friends to see. The exhibit is open to visitors every afternoon, she says.

Mrs. Palmer reports that she received her inspiration to begin and carry on this work while she was head of the arts and crafts department of the local club.

Guests for Thanksgiving dinner at the G. T. Smith home, 4869 Santa Monica, will be Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sugg, Virginia Green of Nestor, Calif., Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Nichols of San Diego and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith of Ocean Beach.

They are hoping that Pvt. Walter Smith of Camp Pendleton will be able to be with them. Mrs. Smith reports a 20-pound turkey and trimmings will be a feature of the dinner and expects the folks to help make it disappear.

Autobiography of Mrs. Wellington Koo Reviewed for Club

With a review of the autobiography of Mrs. Wellington Koo, wife of the Chinese ambassador to the United States, as the highlight of her sketches of interesting books, Mrs. W. C. Whitaker, literature chairman of the county and district Federation of Women's club, was the featured speaker at the November meeting of the Ocean Beach Woman's club, held Nov. 9.

Mrs. R. J. Long and her co chairman, Mrs. Paul Farrar, of the club's literature department, presented Mrs. Whitaker in an enjoyable program for the club members and guests.

In brief sketches of other books, Mrs. Whitaker spoke of Felicia Heman's poems as the first book she remembered and of the fine picture of home life presented by Louisa May Alcott. The sweet sentimental old books tided a girl over a certain period of her life, she maintained, asserting that she would not take anything for the memory of "Barriers Burned Away." "Green Dolphin Street," current novel by Elizabeth Goudge, is built on the old theme of sisters, one good and one bad, she cited.

Mrs. Whitaker said she considered Willa Cather the finest woman author in the United States. "Yankee from Olympus," by C. S. D. Bowen, and Paul Gillico's "The Snow Goose" stood high on the speaker's list of books that should be read.

Mrs. Farrar, USO cairman for the club, at the business session, reported on the dinner served by the club to the service-men Sunday evening at the local USO, and asked for gifts for Christmas distribution to the service-men from the San Diego USO. Members were reminded of the Red Cro Christmas boxes to be filled by the club for hospitalized servicemen in this area.

MRS. KRETTLER REVIEWS BOOK, "THE RAZOR'S EDGE," AT LITERATURE MEETING

Mrs. L. Krettler reviewed the book, "The Razor's Edge," at the Monday evening meeting of the literature department of the Ocean Beach Woman's club. In spite of the rain, the room was well filled with attentive listeners to her review. An interesting discussion followed, with many of the women taking part. To start the evening a short business session was held, with Mrs. R. J. Long, chairman of the group, in charge.

Refreshments for the event were served by a hostess committee consisting of Mrs. Lloyd N. Davis and Mrs. C. W. Early.

At the next meeting, to be held Nov. 27, Miss Margaret Rankin, local librarian, will give the book review.

BLOOD DONORS ASKED TO TELEPHONE TODAY TO ARRANGE CENTER VISIT

Ocean Beach women who are willing to donate blood plasma at the center in San Diego are asked to phone Mrs. Arthur A. Henry, B-6820, or Mrs. F. F. Swan, B-3157 or B-3884, today, Nov. 17. This is a part of the Woman's club patriotic egorts. Because of the short notice, the women, state that arrangements can also be made for a later date.
